

SEMI-FINALS TO BE PLAYED HERE TONIGHT

Only One School Has Both Teams Remaining in Cage Tournament.

Only one school now has both its boys and girls teams remaining in the annual Pickaway-co basketball tournament as the result of the resumption of play Thursday night at the C. A. C. gym.

That school is Pickaway, the boys of which eliminated the Walnut quintet by the score of 18 to 13 in one of the two feature games of the evening. The undefeated Pickaway girls did not play but will get into action Friday night.

The other outstanding game Thursday night was between the Ashville and Jackson girls, which the village sextet won by the score of 17 to 14.

SEMI-FINALS TONIGHT

Walnut girls defeated Perry in a one-sided contest, 28 to 4, and the Monroe boys doubled the score on the Perry boys, 14 to 7, thereby eliminating that institution of learning from the tournament.

Pickaway plays Salt Creek Friday night for the right to enter the boys' finals Saturday night and New Holland will clash with Monroe in the other semi-final game of the boys' tournament.

Games Friday night will determine the girls' teams which will play in the finals Saturday night. Walnut will play Pickaway and Scioto will battle Ashville.

In addition to the games Saturday night to determine the first and second places in both the boys' and girls' tournaments, a third game will be played between the two boys' teams, which were eliminated in the semi-final round, to determine third place in the boys' teams winning first, second and third places will go to Delaware.

WALNUT BOYS LOSE

In the first game Thursday evening, Pickaway boys defeated Walnut boys, 18-13. This game was very fast and interesting. Walnut held the lead the whole first half, but the Pickaway boys came back to tie the score at 10 all at the third quarter and at last to win. Anderson of Pickaway and Miller of Walnut were tied for high point honors with 9 points.

CHURCH PAGEANT WILL BE STAGED

The Presbyterians of Columbus Presbytery are looking forward with great interest to the pageant to be given on Sunday evening in Memorial Hall in Columbus. It was especially prepared for the occasion by Rev. and Mrs. James A. Verburg, well known to many here, who are supervising the rendition. Beginning with Abraham's time the pageant will show the progress of religion through the ages.

To Hage Memorial church has been given the depicting of the founding of the Presbyterian church in this valley by the pioneer preacher, Dr. James Hoge.

Rev. E. S. Townsend of Circleville is chairman of the committee under whose auspices the Educational Campaign "Meet Your Presbyterian Church" has been conducted and of which the pageant is the climax. Tickets are available for members of the local church and it is hoped a large delegation will be in attendance.

YOUTH CONVICTED

HUNTINGTON, W. V. Feb. 22—Virgil Sigler, 20, of Gallipolis, O., found guilty of assisting a high school girl was sentenced to five years imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Moundsville. Sigler pleaded not guilty to the charge. The attack was alleged to have taken place on a Ohio river highway.

Many Children Are Fed At United Brethren Com-

The soup kitchen, at the United Brethren church continues to ladle out soup on every Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. On each of these days an average of 50 bowls of soup is fed to school children alone. Crackers are also furnished.

Recently the ladies of the church in charge of the free soup were given 10 chickens out of which chicken soup was made. With this biscuits were served, also donated 12 dozen of them. Mayor Hedges himself ate a dish of this soup and pronounced it fine enough for anyone.

No matter how long the soup kitchen stays open it seems that there are always some who arrive too late. One day several hungry persons who had tramped from the south end of town for soup came late. The ladies, who had some eggs and a little broth, made some omelets and put in the soup so the hungry were doubly repaid for their long journey in the cold.

L. E. Miller has been carefully checking on those asking for aid. He also has found wood to be cut as fuel for others.

CLUB WINNERS HONOR GUESTS OF ROTARIANS

Boys and Girls Entertained
On Anniversary Of Organization.

Seven years ago Thursday, the charter was received by the Rotary club of Circleville at the Methodist church. Thursday in celebrating this event, the club entertained the winners and leaders of the Four H Club of the county at the Methodist church.

Seven years with a total of 364 meeting days and not a meeting being missed by Harry Stevenson made another celebration for the club members and Harry when Clark Will presented him with a seven year attendance button.

Clarence Barnhart, chairman of the boys' committee of Rotary, can feel proud of the anniversary meeting that was held Thursday. With all the snow and winter weather there were 30 members of the clubs present, out of a possible 37. Then there were 13 of the club leaders present, only six being unable to attend.

PRaises LEADERS
Stanley Lewis, toastmaster, introduced Prof. H. C. Ramsower, director of extension work of the Ohio State University. Prof. Ramsower paid high tribute to the club leaders of the different townships represented.

The county agent and others are very important in carrying on the work of the clubs, but the greatest honor should be given to the leaders who so willingly give of their time and efforts to help these children broaden their education through club work. Prof. Ramsower said. In the club work the members set a goal and through their efforts and assistance of the leaders reach this goal which helps them in their experience of life, whatever it may be.

Prof. Ramsower praised the Rotary club in showing its interest in these industrious boys and girls from the farm. He said: "To know that a club such as this has the interest of these young people is an inspiration for them to do better things, and when these Rotarians see how well they enjoy such a meeting they cannot help but feel more justified in becoming more interested in their welfare."

Miss Mary Shortridge, speaking for the club members, could only state that the expression on the faces of all of the boys and girls present told how thoroughly they enjoyed the meeting and many of them look forward to it next year.

TALKS PRAISE 2 PRESIDENTS

Lutheran Brotherhood Hears
Addresses on Washington and Lincoln.

C. M. Titus and Harry W. Heffner spoke at the regular monthly session of the Trinity Lutheran brotherhood Thursday night at the parish house.

The high school orchestra under the direction of Professor Charles Zanglein provided a large part of the program for the evening.

The meeting which was largely attended, was opened by classical and popular selections by the orchestra, enthusiastically received by the members who thoroughly enjoyed the offerings of the high school pupils.

After a short musical program, the brotherhood served an excellent buffet lunch. The business session followed.

Mr. Titus address was on "The Life of Lincoln" while Mr. Heffner spoke on the "Life of Washington". With these two speakers, the evening was proclaimed one of the most enjoyable held for some time.

The members only criticism was that too much good entertainment was crowded into such a short time.

The next meeting of the brotherhood will be a "What not supper" in March.

FOOD FOR BIRDS IS NEEDED WITH SNOW

Because natural feed for wild birds has been covered so long by the snow local sportsmen ask farmers especially to scatter feed wherever they know coveys of quail to stay. Unless there is a crust on the snow, pheasants can well take care of themselves. Wherever there is cover where other winter or early spring birds gather, feed should be scattered for a few days or until the snow leaves. Most winter birds like grain, such as screenings and cracked corn, etc. but stale bread and kitchen scraps will help too.

Should anyone know of a considerable number of birds in any part of the county that cannot be fed, advise the secretary of the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen's Association and he will see that feed is provided.

BOY FREED AFTER PAL DIES IN FIGHT

GREENUP, KY. Feb. 22—Philip Roby, 16 year old high school student who was accused of having fatally injured his friend, Carl Horn, in a fist fight was free today.

The parents of the dead boy refused to prosecute Roby, contending that the boys had always been companions and that the fight was a "grudge" affair but came as the result of each boy jailing the other about his basketball ability.

The fight took place in the local high school building during basketball practice. Young Horn suffered a broken neck when he was hit by Roby.

Capitol Honors Geo. Washington On His Birthday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The capitol that his sacrifices made possible, and to which he gave his name, led the nation today in paying reverent tribute to the memory of George Washington, on the 197th anniversary of his birth.

Here in Washington the machinery of government slowed down and in some instances stopped altogether. All the executive departments and independent bureaus were closed, affording thousands of employees a holiday.

Congress whirled on, but at reduced speed, for in both senate and house there were long pauses while members made memorial addresses, extolling the virtues and wisdom of the first president.

President Collidge will cap the day of remembrance by making the principal address tonight at George Washington university here.

Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, addressed a large gathering in Memorial Continental hall this morning under the auspices of the D. A. R.

The next meeting of the brotherhood will be a "What not supper" in March.

FILIBUSTERS FACE SENATE

Important Measures Being
Threatened By Minority
Opponents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Four baby filibusters were being nursed along in the senate today to confuse the administration's program and threaten the regular conduct of the closing sessions next week.

The vote-blocking activities which may result in death to all the measures involved, were aimed at the re-appointment bill, the Nicaraguan canal survey, the Dill resolution extending the life of the Federal radio commission for another year, and the second deficiency appropriation bill, much needed to pay the government's over-due bills.

The second deficiency bill faced the sturdiest opposition because it failed to include the $24,000,000 dry appropriation previously added by the senate to the first deficiency bill. The latter measure apparently has been killed in conference because the house conferees refused to allow a direct vote in the house on the dry fund.

Southern senators meanwhile appeared to be organizing a filibuster against the re-appointment bill which would cut down the membership in some of their states, while increasing it in Michigan, California, Ohio and a few other states. Senate Dill of Washington was fighting the Edge resolution while Senator Copeland (D. of New York) threatened a one-year filibuster against extending the life of the radio commission.

A fifth filibuster against the naval appropriation bill apparently ended when the senate adopted an agreement limiting debate after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

FARMER DIES OF LOCKJAW

Tetanus Takes Life of James
M. Tootle of Wayne-twp
Thursday.

James M. Tootle, 60, widely known farmer of Wayne-twp, died at 11 p. m. Thursday in Mercy hospital, Columbus, from lockjaw which developed after the fourth finger on his right hand was cut off by a buzz saw last Friday.

The accident occurred while Mr. Tootle was engaged in sawing wood at his farm. The finger was amputated at the second joint.

Tetanus developed from the injury and Wednesday evening Mr. Tootle experienced difficulty eating his supper. Physicians were summoned and it was then learned that he was suffering from lockjaw.

Anti-tetanus toxin was administered and Mr. Tootle was taken to Mercy hospital, Columbus, early Thursday morning in the Hill invalid coach. His jaws became set soon after his arrival at the hospital and death relieved his sufferings at 11 o'clock Thursday night.

Mr. Tootle was the son of Steward and Maria McDill Tootle and was born Nov. 15, 1868, in Ross-co. He was married Dec. 25, 1888, to Sarah C. Slager, who preceded him in death eight years ago.

He is survived by three children, who are Earl and Neal Tootle, of Ross-co., and Harold Tootle at home. His mother and a sister, Mrs. Clara Knapp, of Clarksville, also survive.

Funeral services will be at Brown Chapel M. E. church at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, Rev. Miller officiating. Burial will be in Brown Chapel cemetery by C. E. Hill, funeral director.

RETIRED TEACHER BURNS TO DEATH

XENIA, O. Feb. 22—Anna McCracken, 50, retired teacher and a sister of the late Dr. Henry M. McCracken, former chancellor of New York university, is dead of burns sustained when she fell unconscious against a gas heating stove in a room of her home here.

Neighbors who broke into her home after missing the aged woman for a day, found her unconscious body against the stove.

Miss McCracken came from a family long prominent in educational circles. She is survived by two nephews, Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, president of Vassar College and Dr. John H. McCracken, former president of Lafayette college, Easton, Pa.

Miss McCracken was a victim of a state fall in a mine near here. Elliott was working in the mine when the slate became divided and he was burned by death two tons of the debris.

KILLED BY SLATE

SCORE PERISH AS SNOW HITS EAST'S CITIES

Below Zero Temperatures Reported in Maine and North Dakota.

More than a score of deaths were attributed today to the storm which swept from the southern border states to Canada, blanketing the eastern states from the Carolinas to Maine with a thick coverlet of snow. Circleville, however, enjoyed a slight moderation from the cold Friday when the mercury climbed above freezing.

While the snowfall was reported halted, the temperature dropped to within hailing distance of zero in most localities. In Maine and North Dakota the thermometer was reported from ten to 14 degrees below zero.

The snow depths average between eight to 17 inches, the latter being recorded in Nashville, Tenn.

There was a heavy fall registered in Pennsylvania, the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, the western Carolinas and even in parts of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan.

VESSELS IN DISTRESS
There were also 17 inches of snowfall in many parts of Pennsylvania.

Maine recorded a heavy depth and fishing vessels were reported in distress from gales which trailed the snow.

Severity of the snowfall was reflected in the storm visiting Atlantic City, which seldom sees snow, and even white layer capped the Boardwalk, rain followed.

The fatalities include three in the metropolitan area of New York and fifteen persons, thirteen of them children, burned to death in fires caused supposedly by overheated stoves in other sections.

Railroad service was adjusting itself to the aftermath of the storm, while freight trains were slowly moving into port through the "thick" weather.

NEW COLD WAVE
A new cold wave, the "steamer" of the season, was scheduled to strike the lower Great Lakes region tonight. Zero and slightly sub-zero temperatures were predicted. Heavy blankets of snow shrouded Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, lower Wisconsin, and Michigan, with more predicted tomorrow at Sunday.

From a high of 29 degrees above zero yesterday, the mercury cascaded to 8 above earlier today in Chicago and other Organization.

Seven years ago Thursday, the charter was received by the Rotary club of Circleville at the Methodist church. Thursday in celebrating this event, the club entertained the winners and leaders of the Four H Club of the county at the Methodist church.

Seven years with a total of 364 meeting days and not a meeting being missed by Harry Stevenson made another celebration for the club members and Harry when Clark Will presented him with a seven year attendance button.

Clarence Barnhart, chairman of the boys' committee of Rotary, can feel proud of the anniversary meeting that was held Thursday. With all the snow and winter weather there were 30 members of the clubs present, out of a possible 37. Then there were 13 of the club leaders present, only six being unable to attend.

PRaises LEADERS
Stanley Lewis, toastmaster, introduced Prof. H. C. Ramsower, director of extension work of the Ohio State University. Prof. Ramsower paid high tribute to the club leaders of the different townships represented.

The county agent and others are very important in carrying on the work of the clubs, but the greatest honor should be given to the leaders who so willingly give of their time and efforts to help these children broaden their education through club work. Prof. Ramsower said. In the club work the members set a goal and through their efforts and assistance of the leaders reach this goal which helps them in their experience of life, whatever it may be.

Prof. Ramsower praised the Rotary club in showing its interest in these industrious boys and girls from the farm. He said: "To know that a club such as this has the interest of these young people is an inspiration for them to do better things, and when these Rotarians see how well they enjoy such a meeting they cannot help but feel more justified in becoming more interested in their welfare."

Miss Mary Shortridge, speaking for the club members, could only state that the expression on the faces of all of the boys and girls present told how thoroughly they enjoyed the meeting and many of them look forward to it next year.

GUESTS OF HONOR
Prize winning members of the past year in the pig, calf, corn, food and clothing clubs, who were present at the meeting, were:

Geraldine Cline, Fay Solt, Judith Schlegel, Lily Cardiff, Zora Peters, Roma Melvin, Mildred Noble, Laura Tener, Clarabell Rühl, Elizabeth Warner, Mary Ruth Tolbert, Rose Mary McKenzie, Nellie Cull, Wiley Campbell, Jr., Leroy Kuhlwein, Gerald Miller, Paul Gaffis, John Kirk, Stanley Melvin, Gerald Imler, Sheldon Grimes, Bertha Doering, Paul Barch, Louie Carpenter, Scott Carpenter, Frank Price, Ned Thatcher, Jasper Hedges, Russell Radcliff, and Edgar Jinks.

Leaders attending the meeting were: Beatrice Grice, Mrs. J. B. Cromley, Mildred Judy, Mary I. Shortridge, Mrs. Fred Baird, Mrs. Charles Hosler, Mrs. Frank Jinks, Della Hoffman, Glenn Speakman, C. F. Tossey, Pearl E. Smith and H. Newell Stevenson.

WIDOW RECEIVES HUSBAND'S ESTATE

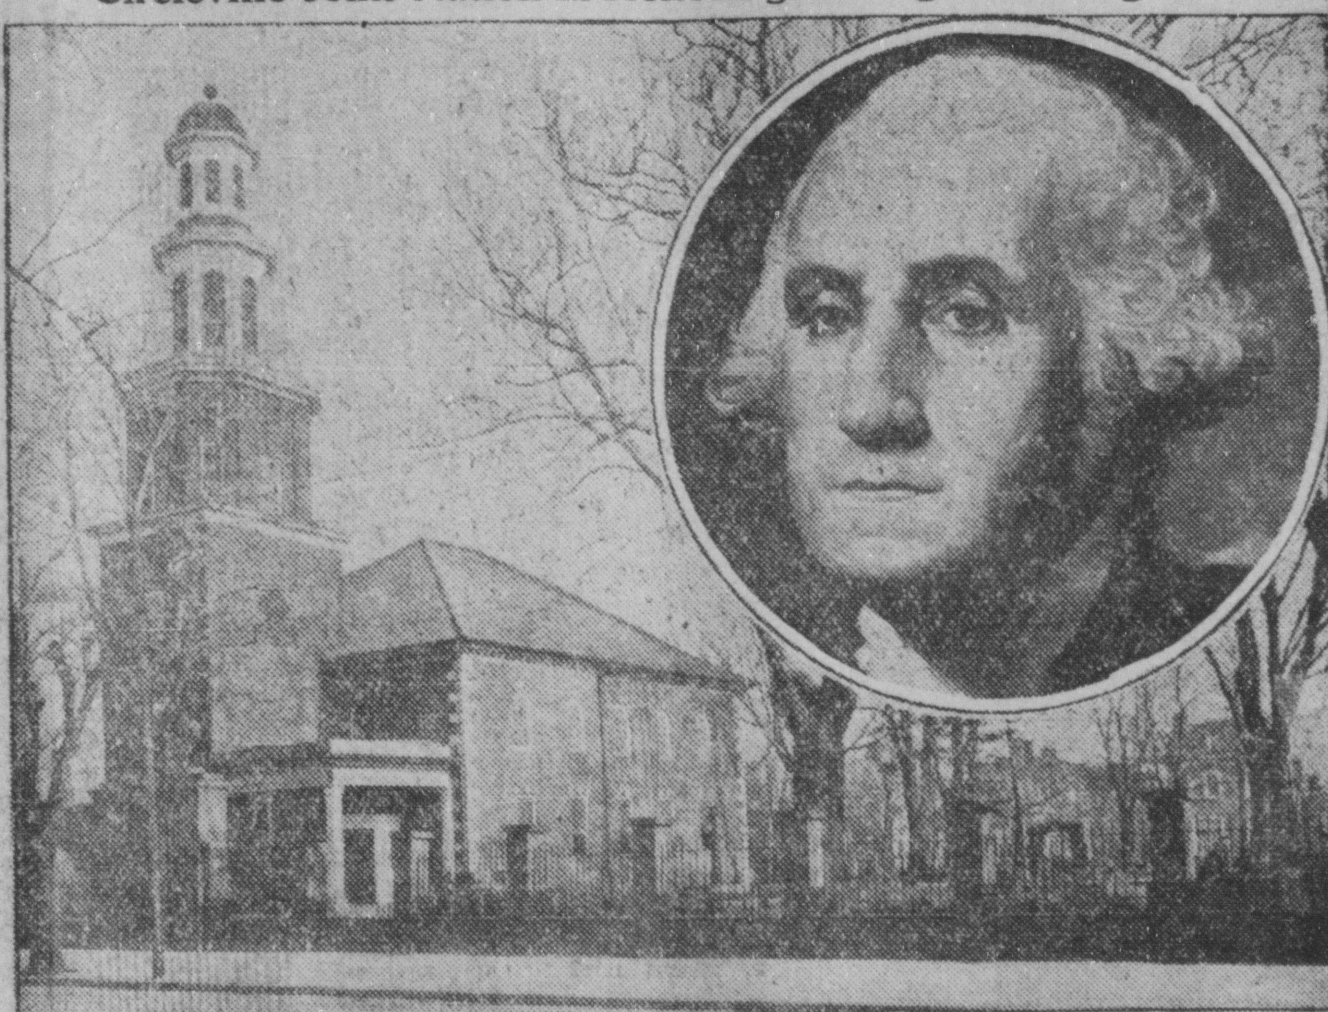

Mrs. Evalyn R. Courtright is bequeathed the entire estate, estimated to be worth $22,600, of the late Jesse S. Courtright, of Ashville, who died Feb. 11, according to his brief will filed in the Pickaway-co probate court. She is also named executrix without bond.

The will was drawn on Dec. 7, 1928. Jesse Baum, Ludwig Osterle and J. W. Hay have been appointed appraisers. In addition to his widow, the deceased is survived by six children who are: Donald P. and Jesse E. Courtright, Anna C. Hedges, Helen M. Courtright, Bertha L. Courtright and Mary L. Stickel, all of Ashville.

FREEZES TO DEATH

FLUSHING, O., Feb. 27—Mrs. William Gow, 55, was found dead in a snowdrift near her home here. The body was found by her husband who, with neighbors, had conducted an all night search for the woman after disappearance. The woman after she failed to return home from a visit with friends.

Circleville Joins Nation in Honoring George Washington

TALKS PRAISE 2 PRESIDENTS

Lutheran Brotherhood Hears
Addresses on Washington
and Lincoln.

C. M. Titus and Harry W. Heffner spoke at the regular monthly session of the Trinity Lutheran brotherhood Thursday night at the Parish house. The high school orchestra under the direction of Professor Charles Zanglein provided a large part of the program for the evening.

The meeting which was largely attended, was opened by classical and popular selections by the orchestra, enthusiastically received by the members who thoroughly enjoyed the offerings of the high school pupils.

After a short musical program, the brotherhood served an excellent buffet lunch. The business session followed.

Mr. Titus address was on "The Life of Lincoln" while Mr. Heffner spoke on the "Life of Washington." With these two speakers, the evening was proclaimed one of the most enjoyable held for some time. The members only criticism was that too much good entertainment was crowded into such a short time.

The next meeting of the brotherhood will be "What not supper" in March.

FOOD FOR BIRDS IS NEEDED WITH SNOW

Because natural feed for wild birds has been covered so long by the snow local sportsmen ask farmers especially to scatter feed wherever they know covets of quail to stay. Unless there is a crust on the snow, pheasants can well take care of themselves. Wherever there is cover where other winter or early spring birds gather, feed should be scattered for a few days or until the snow leaves. Most winter birds like grain, such as screenings and cracked corn, etc. but stale bread and kitchen scraps will help too.

Should anyone know of a considerable number of birds in any part of the county that cannot be fed, advise the secretary of the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen's Association and he will see that feed is provided.

BOY FREED AFTER PAL DIES IN FIGHT

GREENUP, KY., Feb. 22—Philip Roby, 16 year old high school student who was accused of having fatally injured his friend, Carl Hern, in a fist fight, was free today.

The parents of the dead boy refused to prosecute Roby, contending that the boys had always been companions and that the fight was not a "grudge" affair but came as the result of each boy jibing the other about his basketball ability.

The fight took place in the local high school building during basketball practice. Young Hern suffered a broken neck when knocked to the floor.

DIES IN SNOWDRIFT

BRANCHLAND, W. V., Feb. 22.—Lisha Hoosier, 60, Lincoln co., farmer died at his home near here, of exposure today. He was found in a fourteen inch snow drift last night by a searching party.

Capitol Honors Geo. Washington On His Birthday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The capitol that his sacrifices made possible, and to which he gave his name, led the nation today in paying reverent tribute to the memory of George Washington, on the 197th anniversary of his birth.

Here in Washington the machinery of government slowed down and in some instances stopped altogether. All the executive departments and independent bureaus were closed, affording thousands of employees a holiday.

Congress whirled on, but at reduced speed, for in both senate and house there were long pauses while members made memorial addresses, extolling the virtues and wisdom of the first president.

President Collidge will cap the day of remembrance by making the principal address tonight at George Washington university here.

Sir Esme Howard, the British ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, addressed a large gathering in Memorial Continental hall this morning under the auspices of the D. A. R.

FILIBUSTERS FACE SENATE

Important Measures Being
Threatened By Minority
Opponents.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Four baby filibusters were being nursed along in the senate today to confuse the administration's program and threaten the regular conduct of the closing sessions next week.

The vote-blocking activities, which may result in death to all the measures involved, were aimed at the re-apportionment bill, the Nicaraguan canal survey, the Dill resolution extending the life of the Federal radio commission for another year, and the second deficiency appropriation bill, much needed to pay the government's over-due bills.

The second deficiency bill faced the stiffest opposition, because it failed to include the $24,000,000 dry appropriation previously added by the senate to the first deficiency bill. The latter measure apparently has been killed in conference because the house conferees refused to allow a direct vote in the house on the dry fund.

Southern senators, meanwhile, appeared to be organizing a filibuster against the re-apportionment bill, which would cut down the membership in some of their states, while increasing it in Michigan, California, Ohio and a few other states. Senator Dill (D.) of Washington, was fighting the Edge resolution while Senator Copeland (D.) of New York, threatened a one-man filibuster against extending the life of the radio commission.

A fifth filibuster, against the naval appropriation bill, apparently ended when the senate adopted an agreement limiting debate after 3 o'clock this afternoon.

FARMER DIES OF LOCKJAW

Tetanus Takes Life of James
M. Tootle of Wayne-twp
Thursday.

James M. Tootle, 60, widely known farmer of Wayne-twp, died at 11 p. m. Thursday in Mercy hospital, Columbus, from lockjaw which developed after the fourth finger on his right hand was cut off by a buzz saw last Friday.

The accident occurred while Mr. Tootle was engaged in sawing wood at his farm. The finger was amputated at the second joint.

Tetanus developed from the injury and Wednesday evening Mr. Tootle experienced difficulty eating his supper. Physicians were summoned and it was then learned that he was suffering from lock-jaw.

Anti-tetanus toxin was administered and Mr. Tootle was taken to Mercy hospital, Columbus, early Thursday morning in the Hill invalid coach. His jaws became set soon after his arrival at the hospital and death relieved his sufferings at 11 o'clock Thursday night.

Mr. Tootle was the son of Steward and Maria McDill Tootle and was born Nov. 15, 1868, in Ross-co. He was married Dec. 25, 1888, to Sarah C. Slager, who preceded him in death eight years ago.

He is survived by three children, who are Earl and Neal Tootle, of Ross-co., and Harold Tootle at home. His mother and a sister, Mrs. Clara Knapp, of Clarksburg, also survive.

Funeral services will be at Brown Chapel M. E. church at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, Rev. Miller officiating. Burial will be in Brown Chapel cemetery by C. E. Hill, funeral director.

RETIRED TEACHER BURNS TO DEATH

XENIA, O., Feb. 22—Anna McCracken, 80, retired teacher and a sister of the late Dr. Henry M. McCracken, former chancellor of New York university, is dead of burns sustained when she fell unconscious against a gas heating stove in a room of her home here.

Neighbors who broke into her home, after missing the aged woman for a day, found her unconscious body against the stove.

Miss McCracken came from a family long prominent in educational circles. She is survived by two nephews, Dr. Henry Noble McCracken, president of Vassar College, and Dr. John H. McCracken, former president of Lafayette college, Easton, Pa.

KILLED BY SLATE

POMEROY, O., Feb. 21—John Elliott, 50, is dead here today, a victim of a slate fall in a mine near here. Elliott was working in the mine when the slate became dislodged and he was buried beneath two tons of the debris.

AGED TEACHER DIES

STANLEY, IA., Feb. 22.—Ada K. Terrell, former school teacher of Herbert Hoover at West Branch, Ia., is dead here today at the age of 78. Death was due to old age.

SCORE PERISH AS SNOW HITS EAST'S CITIES

Below Zero Temperatures Reported In Maine and North Dakota.

More than a score of deaths were attributed today to the storm which swept from the southern border states to Canada, blanketing the eastern states from the Carolinas to Maine with a thick coverlet of snow. Circleville, however, enjoyed a slight moderation from the cold Friday when the mercury climbed above freezing.

While the snowfall was reported halted, the temperature dropped to within hailing distance of zero in most localities. In Maine and North Dakota the thermometer was reported from ten to 14 degrees below zero.

The snow depths average between eight to 17 inches, the latter being recorded in Nashville, Tenn.

There was a heavy fall registered in Pennsylvania, the new England states, New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, the western Carolinas and even in parts of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan.

VESSELS IN DISTRESS
There were also 17 inches of snowfall in many parts of Pennsylvania.

Maine recorded a heavy depth and fishing vessels were reported in distress from gales which trailed the snow.

Severity of the snowfall was reflected in the storm visiting Atlantic City, which seldom sees snow, and even white layer carpeted the Boardwalk, rain followed.

The fatalities include three in the metropolitan area of New York and fifteen persons, thirteen of them children, burned to death in fires caused supposedly by overheated stoves in other sections.

Railroad service was adjusting itself to the aftermath of the storm, while Trans-Atlantic liners were slowly moving into port through the "thick" weather.

NEW COLD WAVE
A new cold wave, the "steenth" of the season, was scheduled to strike the lower Great Lakes region tonight. Zero and slightly sub-zero temperatures were predicted. Heavy blankets of snow shrouded Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, lower Wisconsin, and Michigan, with more predicted tomorrow or Sunday.

From a high of 29 degrees above zero yesterday, the mercury cascaded to 8 above earlier today in Chicago and other places in the vicinity. Moderate northwest winds were to accompany the new cold wave.

TOWN GETS FOOD
SILVERTOWN, Colo., Feb. 22. Excitement reigned in Silvertown today after the first train in three weeks rolled to a stop at the railroad station. The 1,200 or more inhabitants had been cut off from the outside world except for runners on snowshoes since Feb. 3.

One of the locomotives, engaged in clearing the track ahead of the 36-car train of provisions, went over the embankment when it hit a huge snow-drift. Peter Myers, Denver and Rio Grande Western Master Mechanic was seriously injured in the accident, but the engineer and fireman on the engine jumped to safety as the wheels left the rails.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR LENT PLANNED

A splendid program of topics has been outlined by Rev. Franklin McElfresh, D. D., of the Methodist church, for the present Lenten period. Beginning with Sunday, Feb. 24, all of the morning sermons will be on central themes of the Gospel.

The following have been chosen for topics until Easter: Feb. 24, "Why I Believe in the Church." March 3, "Why I Believe in the Bible." March 10, "Why I Believe in Prayer." March 17, "Why I Believe in Christ." March 24, "Why I Believe in Future Life." The evening themes will be about Jesus meeting people: Feb. 24, "Jesus Talks in His Home Church." March 3, "Jesus Visits in a Home." March 10, "Jesus Visits the Home of a Young Girl." March 17, "Jesus Talks with a Young Man About Life Plans." March 24, "Jesus Meets a Business Man."

"Sixty-five years ago, I served in the Civil war, and received a wound from which I never completely recovered. Since that time I have been troubled by pains over my body, especially in my side, probably resulting from this wound. During the past few years I have suffered great agony from stomach trouble. Gas formed on my stomach all the time, especially after eating and at night, and made me miserable. My bowels and kidneys were out of order and I frequently had terrible pains across my back. I also had rheumatic attacks from time to time which did not add to my enjoyment of life. All in all, the past few years were not pleasant and my body condition did not improve even if I took the best care of myself. About two weeks ago I heard of Spinago, and the wonderful results many Circleville people were receiving from this new medicine. I decided to try it and bought one bottle. I was told not to expect too much benefit from the first bottle or so but I want to say right now that the good that two bottles have done me is surprising. First of all that pain in my side, which frequently spread to different parts of my body has entirely disappeared. This alone is worth taking Spinago for because, believe me, it is a relief. Spinago has regulated my bowels and put my stomach in order. Gas doesn't form on my stomach and keep me in misery any more. My kidney troubles are all gone. I am no more bothered by rheumatic pains and I can truthfully say that I feel better than I have for a long, long time. Although I am ninety years old and served in the Civil war sixty-five years ago, I say that since taking Spinago I have more pep than ever. I am getting another bottle today and heartily recommend anyone who has suffered from any of my complaints to follow my example. I'm going to get my daughter to take it and am sure she will thank me in about two weeks for the advice."

Stubborn And Chronic Ailments Give Way Before Spin-Ago

New Tonic Containing Spinach Obtainable At Mykrantz Pharmacy In Circleville.

A new tonic, based upon a practical and time tried formula is now obtainable at the Mykrantz pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., Circleville, where many former sufferers daily call to praise it. Relief has been given to many and many residents of Circleville by this new tonic containing spinach. They have found that Spin-Ago is a preparation before which all ailments of many years' standing must fall—stomach trouble, constipation, dyspepsia, lack of energy, anemia, loss of weight, loss of appetite, rheumatism and neuritis—all these have been cured and relieved by Spin-Ago and every day adds to the long list of those who have benefited by using this new tonic.

SPIN-AGO is sold on an absolutely guaranteed basis—so it costs nothing to try it. The price is one dollar per bottle or five dollars for six bottles. And if one, two or six bottles do not produce the desired results—the money is cheerfully refunded. Why not try Spin-Ago on this plan

"What Is Spin-Ago?"
Is Question Asked
By Many Hundreds

Many sufferers who have heard of the wonders worked by Spin-Ago in so many cases in Circleville are skeptical; they don't believe it is possible. They ask—"How can any tonic do it? What is Spin-Ago?"

The answer is simple—Spinago can accomplish such feats because it is a tonic based upon a practical idea. An idea that has been tested through many years; That Spinach is one of the most valuable foods obtainable both to combat stomach and digestive ailments and to make rich, pure blood. For many, many years doctors have recommended Spinach in diets for these ailments and it is a generally accepted fact that Spinach makes the blood pure, rich and red. And if the blood is pure, rich and red you must be healthy. But in order to derive the great benefits from Spinach it is necessary to eat large quantities of it due to the great content of moisture and other elements which are not of any special benefit to the body. But if fresh Spinach is dried until all this moisture is driven out we have left a fine powder containing only the elements which are of benefit. One pound of this powder, due to its concentrated form, contains as much of the elements valuable to the body as many pounds of fresh, green spinach. In other words, this powder is concentrated Spinach.

This, then, is the reason why Spinago can work such wonders, because its main ingredient is concentrated, dry, powdered Spinach is contained in each bottle, in sufficient quantity to produce the beneficial results of many pounds of fresh Spinach. To this important basic ingredient, the following well known roots, herbs and berries are added: Sarsaparilla, Mandarilla, Dandelion, Prickly Ash, Poke Root, Gentian, Cascara, Licorice, Burdock and Wild Cherry scientifically compounded with other valuable ingredients of recognized medical value under a process and in proportion known only to the manufacturer.

Based upon such a formula, it is not surprising that Spinago has performed feats which seem almost like miracles.

Noah Bowsher Has Good Appetite and "More Pep" After Using New Tonic Containing Spinach.

"I had to go to doctors continually seeking relief from a very disordered stomach until I tried Spin-Ago," said Mr. Noah Bowsher when he came to the Mykrantz Pharmacy for his third bottle of Spin-Ago last week. Mr. Bowsher, who now resides at the Main Hotel and is employed by the Midwest Box Co., has lived all his life in Circleville—During the past twenty years Mr. Bowsher has suffered untold agonies arising from a bad digestive system—But that was before he heard of Spin-Ago—He went on to say—

"Those twenty years of misery are not pleasant to recall. Dyspepsia, gas on the stomach and indigestion brought on practically continual sick headache—My appetite was very poor and eating was never a pleasure—Constipation caused me to feel drowsy most of the time—My vitality was so low that many times I was practically unable to get around—Several attacks of acute indigestion made my life miserable—I never knew when the next one was coming—During those twenty years, I was going to doctors all the time and trying one medicine after another—but my troubles didn't end—I had just about given up hope when I heard of Spin-Ago and the wonderful relief it was giving others—At first I thought that it was just another patent medicine and I didn't pay much attention to the claims made for it—But finally, after hearing praise from so many people I decided that it couldn't do any harm to try it. It was sure a lucky decision for me—as my twenty years of suffering were ended by two bottles of Spin-Ago—I can truthfully say that it is better than any medicine I have ever taken because it cured my constipation and put my digestive system in perfect shape—I am not troubled with dyspepsia or gas any more—No more sick headaches arising from these troubles has returned and I have more pep than I have had for twenty years—I enjoy my meals now and my appetite is fine.

"Any medicine that will do this much for me after twenty years of misery can surely help many others to enjoy life—and I want to heartily recommend Spin-Ago to everyone who is troubled with any of my former complaints."

other medicines which I tried for ten years failed to do. It cured me—For the first time in ten years I now enjoy good health. My stomach trouble is gone. I have a good healthy appetite and enjoy my meals. My bowels are in good shape and my general condition is fine. I have Spinago to thank for this change in me. It is a truly wonderful medicine. I have now started my son on Spinago and am sure that he will get the same results I have. JUNCTION CITY SQUAD BEATEN BY C. A. C. FIVE Local Cage Team Leaves Town To Gain Another Victory.

The C. A. C. squad added to their string of basketball victories by journeying to Junction City Thursday night and defeating the Junction City Independents by the count of 41 to 20.

The first half was a very close and hard fought period, one of those up and down affairs with but one or two points between the teams throughout and came to its climax with the C. A. C. crew leading 16 to 14.

Even though the score of the first half was close the C. A. C. outplayed the Junction City squad and were just accustomed themselves to the strange floor and the defense tactics of the opposing team. After getting these two conditions mastered they stepped out, and fully convinced the Junction City team and the spectators that they were entirely too fast for the home boys.

CHARGE OF MURDER FACES GUARDSMAN

ATHENS, O., Feb. 22.—Bert Barnes, 30, World war veteran and a first lieutenant in the local infantry company of the National Guard, was held in jail here today and faces a probable murder charge in connection with the death of Fred Brooks, father of two children.

Barnes is alleged to have struck Brooks in his home last night, the latter suffering a broken neck when he hit the floor. Police say a party was held in the Brooks home and that both men had been drinking. An argument was believed to have been the cause of the fight.

Officers arrested Barnes on the street here where they say he was boasting to friends about his strength. When taken into custody the war veteran, had not learned that Brooks was dead.

GIRL OF MADISON MILLS ABDUCTED

WASHINGTON C. H., O., Feb. 22.—A kidnaping case was the problem confronting the authorities of this city today.

Search for the abductors of Jean Tootle, 16-year-old ward of the Madison co. probate court, reported to have been taken by two men last Wednesday from the home of A. M. Sherman, Madison Mills, extended throughout the entire county today.

The girl was placed in Sherman's charge two years ago, by the court. She was employed in a grocery store. The kidnapers are believed to be a sweetheart of the girl and another man.

Protecting Paint

By adding a half pint of oil of cedar to each gallon of paint one may combat the very annoying curiosity of flies and gnats to find out for themselves if the wet paint is really wet. Some painters prefer to use oil of citronella in smaller quantities. The effect is the same, the insects will avoid the fresh paint because of the odor.

"The doctor brought him in," replied the father.
"Oh, I didn't know he was the agent for babies," responded Grace. "What did you have to pay down?"

THE RECORD-BREAKING NEW NASH "400" from 9th to 4th place in just 6 months!

IN DOLLARS AND CENTS VOLUME, ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL FIGURES (Ford Excluded)

ON July 1, 1928, Nash stood ninth in dollars and cents volume of sales, exclusive of Ford, according to the official figures for the year ending at that date.

On January 1, 1929, just six months later, according to the same official figures, Nash stood fourth.

In this very brief period the new Nash "400" has completely changed the automobile picture of America.

With unmistakable enthusiasm, motorists everywhere have placed their stamp of approval upon this new Nash —making it, by a tremendous margin, the outstanding motor success of modern automobile history.

Why? Because Nash gives them the Twin-Ignition motor... gives them cars equipped with the Bijur centralized chassis lubrication system... with hydraulic shock absorbers... with bumpers front and rear... spare tire lock... cars completely, luxuriously equipped... at no extra cost.

Ninth to fourth place in just six months because the new Nash "400" is the only car of all the new cars with every new and progressive feature!

The New NASH "400"
Leads the World in Motor Car Value

IMPORTANT "400" FEATURES—NO OTHER CAR HAS THEM ALL

Twin-Ignition motor	Aluminum alloy pistons (Invar Struts)	Bijur centralized chassis lubrication	Longer wheelbases
12 Aircraft-type spark plugs	New double drop frame	Electric clocks	One-piece Salon fenders
High compression	Torsional vibration damper	Exterior metalware chrome plated over nickel	Clear vision front pillar posts
Houdaille and Lovejoy shock absorbers (exclusive Nash mounting)	World's easiest steering	7-bearing crankshaft (bellow crank pins)	Nash Special Design front and rear bumpers
Salon Bodies	Short turning radius

STEVENSON PLANS "ELEPHANT" SALE

White elephants with four legs but no tail, white elephants in three pieces for the living room, and white elephants to put on the corner of the mantle or hang on the wall will be on sale Saturday at Stevenson's furniture store.

For the skeptics who do not believe there are such things as white elephants with springs, or reversible cushions, there will be plenty of proof beginning Saturday. Some of the animals are overstuffed but constitutions that will wear for a long time. Mr. Stevenson is conducting a white elephant sale on that date, a sale such as never before has been tried in Circleville.

A white elephant is a possession, which, no matter how valuable, is useless to the owner and perhaps in the way. The space it occupies could be used to better advantage. So some of the furniture at Stevensons, though it may be of the best, must make way for other stock.

So when the wives take the husbands and the husbands take the wives to see the white elephants sacrificed for the sake of progression in business, they will be delighted when they find that they are attending a sale where real values are being given in a novel fashion.

MT. STERLING

Mr. and Mrs. Hoadley Warner and family visited friends at New Holland Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird moved from Sterling to the Larey farm. Mrs. Baird will be better remembered as Miss Marcia Baker.

Oras Rader and twin sons will move in with his mother near Five Points soon.

James Dodd is visiting friends and relatives in Charleston, W. V. Mrs. Etta Hatfield, who has been in White Cross hospital for some time was returned to her home near Five Points Monday in E. T. Snyder's ambulance.

Quite a number from here attended church at Grange Hall Sunday, both morning and evening services to hear Rev. Neffand and his wife in song and message. They are well worth going a longer distance to hear. The church was fairly well filled both morning and evening.

HER DAYS WERE FILLED WITH PAIN AND MISERY

Local Lady Suffered 25 Years With Rheumatism: Hoyt's Brought Quick Relief.

Mrs. Leah Dumm, a resident near Circleville all her life is still another well known resident of this city to publicly endorse Hoyt's Compound which is the famous prescription of nature's finest medical juices now being introduced every day at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, O. Mrs. Dumm, who is the wife of Peter Dumm is 67 years of age and has lived near Circleville her entire life. She has been a constant sufferer of rheumatism for over 25 years. She suffered day and night from these pains which settled in her knees and always had to be taking something trying to get relief from her stomach which has also a great source of worry since she was unable to eat regularly without having trouble from her stomach. Everything she ate was only half digested and she steadily lost weight. Mrs. Dumm's own TRUTHFUL statement follows:

"I have resided near Circleville, Ohio all my life and during the last 25 years I have been a great victim of rheumatism which settled in my knees and hips and caused me to suffer terribly day and night. Appetite was very poor and everything I ate was only half digested and caused stomach gases to form and I gradually lost weight. I read about Hoyt's Compound and what it was doing for people in Chillicothe and Circleville and other towns throughout this vicinity and decided to try it. I can truthfully say that I haven't had an ache or pain since the first bottle of Hoyt's. My entire body has been completely changed and my physical condition has improved so much that even my next door neighbors cannot believe that ANY MEDICINE could so quickly change a person in such a remarkable short time. My husband also got the same great results from this Hoyt's Compound and we have found out from other people of my time just how this medicine acted on us.

Hoyt's Compound is being explained every day at Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, Ohio.

installed in schools near here are giving much trouble and inconvenience to both teachers and pupils, much smoke and soot are not conducive to good health.

Rev. Weiser preached a wonderful sermon in Greenland M. E. church last Sunday in the afternoon: What do you say, let's go hear him at 2:30 o'clock, March 3. Hearing God's word preached so ably as our ministers can preach it pays more than 100 percent on the $1 expended for same.

Rev. Rhodes also gave a wonderful message in the M. E. church, at Waterloo, Feb. 17. A good attendance was on hand.

J. D. Maddox has rented a farm near here and Harry Keller and family will move there March 1 and do the farming for J. D. Maddox.

COOLIDGE'S START SLEIGH FASHION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Sleigh bells tinkled in the streets of the capitol today.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge set the fashion yesterday by going sleighing with Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the secretary of labor, and the Davis children.

A hard freeze last night kept Washington streets in good condition for sleighing, and today horses came into their own again. No work was done on the streets today owing to the holiday.

LOANS UP TO $500

The only people who think City Loan service is expensive are those who have never investigated or used it.

A $50 loan costs only $1.35 for a month—$2.60 for two months—or $3.75 for three months on the prompt payment plan. Or you may borrow it in easy monthly payments upon which there is an average cost of less than $4.50 a month. Straight time loans are also made for farmers at the same reasonable charge.

The new City Loan plan enables you to borrow the amount you need in the quiet, dignified way you prefer and on the terms you want. A loan fitted to your needs and geared to your income is ready for you, should you need it, and the cost is well within your means.

Gems From Doctor Johnson

Garrick having a law action coming on to be heard, the great actor's biographer advised him to get some married witnesses.

Garrick—Sir, what is the difference?
Doctor Johnson—Why, sir, a married man is used to cross-examination.

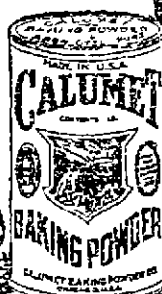

Hudson's Craft Small

Henry Hudson's Half Moon was a boat of 50 tons burden. The last, like the ten, has a somewhat flexible measure, but it is safe to say that the vessel in which Hudson sailed in 1609 was a shallow little craft of not over 600 tons and probably less.

BIBLE THOUGHT
TO OBEY IS BETTER THAN SACRIFICE—Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the ways that I commanded you, that it may be well unto you.—Jeremiah 7:23.

PRAYER—“O may these thoughts possess my breast, Where'er I rove, where'er I rest.”

OUR FOOLISHNESS
The present age, according to Congressman Huddleton of Alabama is the most foolish age in history.

We have been indulging in so loud a chorus of self-praise lately that this is a rather jarring note. Surely, we must be wiser than the Alabama gentleman thinks. Let's look into the matter.

A little more than 10 years ago the nations of the world finished fighting a war that nearly wrecked all but a few of them—a war fought to end war. Today all of them are preparing for a new war more energetically than ever before.

The United States has more money than any other country on earth and enjoys a greater prosperity; yet a useful statesman like the late Senator Oscar Underwood dies with an estate of but $50,000, while an Arnold Rothstein-gambler, dope purveyor and racketeer—leaves about $3,000,000.

Our largest city, New York, tied into a knot by traffic congestion and unbearable crowding, continues to erect 50-story skyscrapers that will make the congestion and crowding infinitely worse.

Our second city, Chicago, elects a mayor whose chief qualification is that he hates the British, and then wonders why it gets a rotten city government.

Our Congress appropriates precisely one-tenth of the sum that the prohibition director says is needed to enforce prohibition, and then wonders why there is so much booze in the country.

We send our young people to college where football coaches are more highly paid than presidents and where social life is infinitely more important than scholarship, and then wonder why there is so much “materialism” in the land.

We let politics and graft infect our police departments, and we bind up our courts in a mass of red tape and archaic procedure, and yet we are puzzled because so few criminals are caught and convicted.

We send a Michigan man to prison for life because he had a pint of gin, let an Albert B. Fall give away several hundred million dollars worth of government property without punishment, and are surprised that the ordinary man is losing his respect for law.

Three of our largest basic industries—agriculture, coal mining and the textile manufacturing trade—are depressed as seldom before; but any man who dares hint that we are not enjoying unparalleled universal prosperity is hooted at as an enemy of the nation.

And, last but not least, we sign a treaty that outlaws war, and immediately rush to build 15 new 10,000-ton cruisers.

You could go on like that for a hour if you cared to. It must be that Mr. Huddleton isn't so far wrong, after all.

WORTHY SONS OF A WORTHY FATHER

Impatient Griselda
by Dorothy Scarborough

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBLINE, in love with handsome Guinn Holden, the young Texas town minister, is bitterly disappointed when he marries Lilith, a beautiful blonde, who had boasted that she would force him to propose to her. A year later Lilith dies during childbirth. Irene then marries Lilith's baby, the town doctor, in love with her. With Lilith, the baby, she found a more difficult problem, as her father had thoroughly spoiled her. She constantly saw the picture of his dead wife—the same golden hair, blue eyes and soft pink skin. Irene knew that Guinn's love would be fully hers. Instead he entered the room with Lilith in his arms “to see Lilith's little sister.” After eighteen years of married life Irene finds the same unbroken barrier—Holden loves and spoils the beautiful Lilith, now graduated from college while Tina, Ross and Lundy, Irene's own children by him, occupy lesser stations in his heart and mind. “Lilith is older,” was his answer to Irene's remonstrations when Lilith was favored, and Lilith knew how to get her selfish wishes gratified by her father.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXI.
BUT a woman knows a man fairly well if she has been married to him for that long. She knew his secret thoughts, when he would wander pensively on the lawn beside her, but lost touch with her hand if she wished, but he was years away from her, suddenly divorced from her by his memories of the other. Swiftly the girl who had been grave dust for years and years would rise before him, more alive than life itself. He would see a golden head, laughing eyes, lovely as lupins, lips curved softly, would hear again, “Do you love me a little bit?”

Ah, dear God, yes, he loved her! When some interruption came to break the spell for him and he came back to reality, Guinn would not notice that Irene was pale and quiet. Or perhaps he would ask her if the heat had tired her or some church bore had been too much for her.

He was a clean minded man and he wouldn't for a moment think of being disloyal to his wife. And then he would preach a sermon, to men only, on immorality. He would rehearse the hideousness of adultery... with a clear conscience... His wife could have told him there was a disloyalty of spirit as heartbreaking as the mere physical... Men were strange!

Memory drifted back to the time when Patricia was born, the baby, ten years younger than Tina. Tina had loved her and helped care for her, but Lilith hadn't bothered with the baby. Lilith had not troubled to exert herself for anyone. At twelve she had been a slender, golden girl with none of the awkwardness or temperamental uncertainty that most adolescent girls suffer. She had had grace and grace, a dreamy dignity that was at the same time intensely awake. Tina, just two years younger, had seemed far more a child... thin and wiry muscled, vibrant with energy, leaping to do a service for everyone in the house. And imposed on by all except her mother. She'd tried to make it her study to see that Tina didn't do more than her share of work or of giving up... She could see the child now, as she'd spring to fetch her father's slippers or book, divining his wishes without need of speech from him. He would thank her absent-mindedly and turn with more alert interest to Lilith, who hadn't bothered to exercise either her mind or her muscles to do anything for him. But it appeared that beauty did not need to serve.

Tina hadn't been beautiful as Lilith was, but she had had a vivid, eager face, with a hint of the gypsy in her great dark eyes, her dark hair that would never lie straight, but seemed always wind-blown about her face, her swift, woodland grace of movement. She

Irene eased to a more comfortable position for weeding. “No, there's the Old Ministers' Relief Fund. I'm counting on that. I understand that if a preacher has been in hard and continuous service for a long lifetime, he can draw perhaps as much as twenty-five dollars a month to support him and his wife.”

“Cat's foot! If I had a husband I'd rather he drank or gambled the roof off my head than to be eternally trucking in company!”

Miss Mattie shot a look at her and said succinctly: “The preacher didn't tote home so much company when he was married to Lilith. She wouldn't let him!”

A flush flickered over Irene's face, but she spoke quietly. “I don't feel free to do what he wants in his own home.”

“You sure do pamper that man! You ought to be bored for the simple.”

Miss Mattie's wart wiggled in indignation and she rose to go. She gave a cluck of disgust. “Then there's delegates. Every congregation that meets in two hallors and a whoop of this town has a passel of delegates to entertain. And too many of 'em land on you.”

Irene gave her comfortable laugh. “Do you want to work yourself to death so the parson can marry a third wife?” she snapped.

“No.” But that third wife would have her sympathy, her sisterly compassion from the cemetery! “Widowers always marry again, and preachers are the swiftest to love to the altar. And so many women in a church run after the preacher that he needs a wife for a bulldog to protect him.”

Irene laughed. “I didn't exactly stand still myself, did I, Miss Mattie?”

“That you didn't. You didn't say much, but you worked fast. Abby Whitaker and some others ain't got it through their heads yet how you managed it. Did you propose?”

“No, but maybe I would have if it had taken that.”

“That trick worked all right the first time with him. And the charm has never wore off. Lilith was angel cake with frosting in his eyes.”

“I have to be to him what Goethe said his wife was ‘a comfortable loaf of brown bread.’” Irene jerked up a weed with sudden passion.

“He hankers for his angel cake.” The shrewd eyes were fixed on her face. Then she turned and walked away.

Miss Mattie's remark clung like a cocklebur in her mind long after she was gone. Irene could see Guinn in her mind, as she often noticed him, in a thoughtful mood, his dark eyes gazing at the sky's depths of the fire, or looking down a tree-shadowed street as if watching for some one to come. Was he missing Lilith? Was he wishing she were there instead of her?

How many times had she seen him take the little Lilith and curl up from her white brow and gaze into her blue eyes with adoration! Was it the child alone, or the mother in the child that he loved so utterly? On, jealousy was a hateful thing, corroding the soul's face, uncertain of its own status. Love that doesn't know itself based on absolute surety can always waken it to life. And what was she to Guinn, after all? What had she been to him in the eighteen years of their marriage? Had she been but flesh to slake his absent-minded passion? Merely a body to bear him children that he loved indifferently? Would she ever be his wife?

“THE AWAKENING”

The cast of “The Awakening,” Vilma Banky's first individual United Artists starring picture which comes to the Cliftona theater on Sunday is cosmopolitan enough to surprise even anyone acquainted with the exact number of foreigners in pictures. Miss Banky herself, one of Samuel Goldwyn's mainstays for the last three years, is a Hungarian. Walter Byron, Mr. Goldwyn's new find who plays opposite her, is English. Yvonne D'Avril is as French as she sounds. Carl von Hartmann and Ferdinand Schumann-Heink, the son of the great singer, are obviously German.

To round off the selection, the cavalry troop who play an important role in “The Awakening” is made up of former soldiers from Russia, Germany, England, Finland, Turkey, France, and Spain. And the picture itself, is appropriately laid in the racial no-man's land of Alsace.

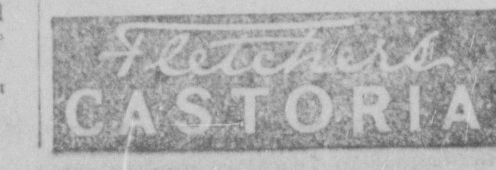

Arthur's “Round Table”
The table which is now called “The Round Table of King Arthur” is to be seen in the Great Hall at Winchester, England, part of the old castle there. At the west end of this hall, above the remains of the royal dais, hangs this table, 17 feet in diameter. It is known to have existed in the Thirteenth century and is possibly older, and was repainted in the reign of Henry VIII. Of course there is no way of tracing any connection of King Arthur and his knights with this table. This table is divided into 24 places for the king and 23 of his knights. According to one version of the King Arthur legends, there were 13 seats around the table, while according to another there were 30 seats, and the total number of knights of King Arthur was 150.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

BIBLE THOUGHT

TO OBEY IS BETTER THAN SACRIFICE—Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the ways that I commanded you, that it may be well unto you.—Jeremiah 7:23.

PRAYER—"O may these thoughts possess my breast, Where'er I rove, where'er I rest."

OUR FOOLISHNESS

The present age, according to Congressman Huddleton of Alabama is the most foolish age in history.

We have been indulging in so loud a chorus of self-praise lately that this is a rather jarring note.

Surely, we must be wiser than the Alabama gentleman thinks. Let's look into the matter.

A little more than 10 years ago the nations of the world finished fighting a war that nearly wrecked all but a few of them—a war fought to end war. Today all of them are preparing for a new war more energetically than ever before.

The United States has more money than any other country on earth and enjoys a greater prosperity; yet a useful statesman like the late Senator Oscar Underwood dies with an estate of but $50,000, while an Arnold Rothstein-gambler, dope purveyor and racketeer—leaves "about $3,000,000.

Our largest city, New York, tied into a knot by traffic congestion and unbearable crowding, continues to erect 50-story skyscrapers that will make the congestion and crowding infinitely worse.

Our second city, Chicago, elects a mayor whose chief qualification is that he hates the British, and then wonders why it gets a rotten city government.

Our Congress appropriates precisely one-tenth of the sum that the prohibition director says is needed to enforce prohibition, and then wonders why there is so much booze in the country.

We send our young people to college where football coaches are more highly paid than presidents and where social life is infinitely more important than scholarship, and then wonder why there is so much "materialism" in the land.

We let politics and graft infect our police departments, and we bind up our courts in a mass of red tape and archaic procedure, and yet we are puzzled because so few criminals are caught and convicted.

We send a Michigan man to prison for life because he had a pint of gin, let an Albert B. Fall give away several hundred million dollars worth of government property without punishment, and are surprised that the ordinary man is losing his respect for law.

Three of our largest basic industries—agriculture, coal mining and the textile manufacturing trade—are depressed as seldom before, but any man who dares hint that we are not enjoying unparalleled universal prosperity is hooted at as an enemy of the nation.

And, last but not least, we sign a treaty that outlaws war, and immediately rush to build 15 new 10,000-ton cruisers.

You could go on like that for a hour if you cared to. It must be that Mr. Huddleton isn't so far wrong, after all.

It's as ill Wind

Luke Stinson's son, the Old Man, Billy's son, had been the other day and the old man couldn't find what his son had come around for the rest—him and a crowd.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBBLE, in love with handsome Guinn Holden, the young Texas town minister, is bitterly disappointed when he marries Lilith, a beautiful blonde who had boasted that she would force him to propose to her. A year later Lilith dies during childbirth. Irene then marries Holden, believing he could be made to forget the past and make her happy with his love. Before this event she had rejected Will Lundy, the town doctor, in love with her. With Will she organized a meeting to uphold the pastor when the deacons of the church tried to expel a member for drunkenness. After marriage Irene devoted her whole life to Guinn's comfort and success. With Lilith, the baby, she found a more difficult problem, as her father had thoroughly spoiled her. In her constant desire to please her father, she had become a spoiled child, blue eyes and soft pink skin. Irene knew that Mattie Anson, the town gossip, was aware of Holden's spiritual loyalty to the dead Lilith. When Irene's child was born she believed Guinn's love would be fully hers. Instead he entered the room with Lilith in his arms "to see Lilith's little sister." After eighteen years of married life Irene finds the same unseen barrier—Holden loves and spoils the beautiful Lilith, now graduated from college, while Tina, Ross and Lundy, Irene's own children by him, occupy lesser places in his heart and mind. "Lilith is older," was his answer to Irene's remonstrations when Lilith was favored, and Lilith knew how to get her selfish wishes gratified by her father.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXI.

BUT a woman knows a man fairly well if she has been married to him for a long time. She knew his secret thoughts, when he would wander pensively on the lawn beside her, but lost in dreams of Lilith. She could touch him with her hand if she wished, but he was years away from her, suddenly divorced from her by his memories of the other.

Swiftly the girl who had been grave, dust and years and years would rise before him, more alive than life itself. He would see a golden head, laughing eyes, lovely as lupins, lips curved softly, would hear again, "Do you love me a little bit?"

Ah, dear God, yes, he loved her! When some interruption came to break the spell for him and he came back to reality, Guinn would not notice that Irene was pale and quiet. Or perhaps he would ask her if the heat had tired her or some church bore had been too much for her.

He was a clean minded man and he wouldn't for a moment think he was disloyal to his wife. Now and then he would preach a sermon to men only, on immorality. He would rehearse the hideousness of adultery... with a clear conscience... His wife could have told him there was a disloyalty of spirit as heartbreaking as the mere physical.

Men were strange! Memory drifted back to the time when Patricia was born, the baby, ten years younger than Tina. Tina had loved her and helped care for her, but Lilith hadn't bothered with the baby. Lilith had not troubled to exert herself for anyone. At twelve she had been a slender, golden girl with none of the awkwardness or temperamental uncertainty that most adolescent girls suffer. She had had poise and grace, a dreamy dignity that was at the same time intensely awake. Tina, but two years younger, had seemed far more a child, thin and very muscular, vibrant with energy, seeming to do a service for everyone in the house. And as she grew by all except her mother's shield, Tina came to be a more than her share of the world's work. She could see and do more than her share of the world's work. She could see and do more than her share of the world's work. She could see and do more than her share of the world's work.

It was not long after this that Tina had been born, the baby, ten years younger than Tina. Tina had loved her and helped care for her, but Lilith hadn't bothered with the baby. Ohio Resident Gains Glorious Health From 3 Bottles of New Konjola; Praises It To All Sufferers.

MRS. DAVID CUPP.
"After years of suffering I have been restored to health through the use of Konjola, the new medicine, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers," said Mrs. David Cupp, R. F. D. No. 8, Lancaster, Ohio.

"Four years of stomach trouble and sixteen years of kidney trouble had made life almost unbearable. After each meal quantities of gas formed, making my heart palpitate wildly and affecting my nervous system. My back was sore and filled with pain. Night rising broke up my sleep. I became more run down with each passing day and was at a loss to know what to do for myself.
"I had been reading so much about the merits of Konjola that I decided to give it a trial. It turned out to be exactly what I needed and went right to the source of my ailments—strengthening my organs. Three bottles of this medicine did the work. It is a wonderful thing to have my health back again. I know now why Konjola is called the master medicine."
Konjola is sold in Circleville, O., at Mykrantz Pharmacy, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.—Adv.

By FRANCES MARION

A VICTOR FLEMING PRODUCTION
UNITED ARTISTS PICTURE

Director, Victor Fleming. Author, Frances Marion. Scenarist by Carey Wilson. Cameraman, George Barnes. A. S. C.

THE CAST

Vilma Banky Marie Durol
Walter Byron Lieutenant Count Karl von Hagen
Louis Wolheim Le Bote
George Davis The Orderly
William A. Gehrmann Grandfather Durol
Carl von Hartmann Sub-Lt. Franz Geyer

In peaceful Alsace, just before the war, lived Marie Durol, beautiful and virtuous, the acknowledged belle of her town of Pre 200r. None of the village gallants have been able to court her successfully, and even Lebolt, the richest farmer of the neighborhood, despite her grandfather's approval of him, elicits no more than an occasional smile to keep him in good humor.

Into Pre 200r, on the eve of the annual festival, comes a squadron of the 11th Hussar on full manoeuvres, led by Lieutenant Count Karl von Hagen, a dashing young officer and a trifle with heart. Seeing Marie when her sheep block the path of his men, he decides to make a conquest of her.

At the festival next day he carries on a bold flirtation with Marie in face of Lebolt's ill-concealed jealousy. He becomes too forward, however, and she rebuffs him. She regrets it the next day and allows him to see her. By the end of the week when von Hagen is to leave, Marie is deeply in love with him. He sees in her merely a passing affair.

At the village inn Lebolt threatens to kill von Hagen should he harm Marie; but he is overborne by the officers' cool contempt.

Describing a life that will mean almost certain death to him in Africa, von Hagen tells Marie if she really loves him she will come to him that night to bid him good-bye.

Torn by terrible indecision, afraid of herself and the merciless village gossip, Marie tries to steel herself against her love for von Hagen, but when the bugle call for departure is given she can resist no longer.

One of the local gossip, seeing her enter the officers' lodgings quickly spreads word that Marie has betrayed the village's belief in her goodness. In a rising storm, Lebolt and an angry crowd gather outside the inn.

In Karl's quarters, Marie is all submissive to the man she loves; and Karl, struck by her innocence and beauty discovers that she has become much more to him than a passing fancy; he genuinely loves her. Knowing that he should never have called her to him, he sends her away; but outside the inn, he is waiting for her with stones and curses. Lebolt seizes her to her cottage in the pouring rain. When she arrives, she discovers that the pitch, symbolic of her shame, has already been smeared on the fence and doorpost and that her old grandfather, overcome by shame has died in his chair by the bedside.

The next morning circumstances indicate that the girl has killed herself.

Then war breaks over Alsace and von Hagen, now a captain in his old regiment, goes to a convent near Pre 200r to warn the nuns of their danger as the French are advancing. Among the nuns he discovers Marie and tries to tell her of his love, now greater than ever; but although she is a novice she can still leave the convent, she turns away from him to the religious life in which she has found peace. He returns next day to enable the nuns to leave, but Marie discovers that he is wounded and delays to care for him.

While she is getting water for his wounds, the French arrive in the midst of bursting shells with Lebolt, now a half-mad sergeant of infantry, at their head. He has not seen Karl since the stormy night when he last strangled him in Pre 200r, but he recognizes him instantly when he discovers him lying unconscious and unattended in the chapel. He tears off his old enemies' bandages so that he will bleed to death and his blood will stain over him.

Marie, herself half-stunned by a bursting shell, comes back to find them there. Lebolt, once over his astonishment of seeing her, instantly senses that she still loves von Hagen and takes a childish resolve to save the pair of them. The wounded von Hagen and Marie are loaded into a peasant's cart and driven covered with straw; Lebolt mounts the driver's seat and drives furiously toward the German lines.

Wounded by snipers' bullets, he nevertheless manages to bring them to safety and die in the midst of a hour's lull in the fighting at the expense of the benighted von Hagen. Marie and von Hagen are left together in safety, sure of their love and trust in each other.

Miss Allison Delaplaine, Editor, Phone 581

IS HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Don Morris, Miss Ethel Rife, and Miss Elizabeth Dunlap were present as guests Thursday night when Mrs. Tom Renick entertained her bridge club at her home on Watt-st. Tulips were the decorations while the place favors, had red cherries or American flags. The nut cups too were decorated with red cherries. Miss Allison Delaplaine won the beautiful trophy for high score.

BOB SLED RIDE FOR HIGH SCHOOL GROUP.

It is an ill blizzard that blows no one good, and the snow that arrived on Monday in Circleville made possible a bob-sled party for a jolly crowd of young people. Following a ride through the town and country, the party went to Hanley's where hot lunch was served.

The party included Miss Jinsy Mader, Miss Harriett Mason, Miss Betty Fissell, Miss Marjorie Hunsicker, Miss Mary Mae Haswell, Miss Alice Phillips, and Miss Peggy Courtwright. Elliott Barnhill, Harold Davis, Jimmy Offenbacher, Joe Barnes, Evan Phillips, Dudley Carpenter and Hugh Cartwright.

GUESTS OF LUMBERMEN AT CHERRY HOTEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee, Miss Reba Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fullen motored to Washington C. H. Thursday night where they were guests for dinner of the District Lumbermen's Association. An elaborate dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at the Cherry hotel with a carefully arranged musical program following.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS WITH MISS CLARKE.

Miss Abbe Clarke enjoyably entertained her bridge club Thursday night, at her home on W.

EDDIE POWELL'S SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The Circleville Branch of Eddie Powell's School of Music was opened last Saturday to a large number. Students were accepted in piano popular music, string instruments and dancing; ballet, toe, acrobatic, tap, character, adagio and ballroom.

Anyone who wishes to take lessons report at the Modern Woodmen Hall, 117 1-2 W. Main Street.

SATURDAY FROM 1 TO 9 P. M.

Union-st. Miss Dorothy McArthur carried off the honors for high score and received an attractive prize. Mrs. A. D. Newmyer will entertain the club next week, on Tuesday afternoon.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF DAUGHTER.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dewey of Jackson-twp, announce the marriage of their daughter Wylma to Thomas Wardell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wardell of Wayne-twp. The marriage was solemnized on Wednesday, February 20, by the Rev. Swearingen.

Following the wedding ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wardell attended an informal luncheon at the home of the bridegroom's parents after which they left immediately for a brief trip South. They will welcome their friends after February 24, at the home of his parents in Wayne-twp where they will take residence for a short time.

ATTEND LUNCHEON AT GOVERNOR'S MANSION

Mrs. E. F. Anderson of Circleville and Mr. W. K. Martin of Lancaster represented the 11th district Wednesday at the luncheon at noon given by Governor and Mrs. Myers Y. Cooper at the governor's mansion. The affair honored the Ohio Republican Central Committee, who with a few other honored guests were seated at one long handsomely appointed table in the ball room of the mansion. In addition to the famous silver and crystalware, the beauty of the dining table was enhanced by a profusion of flowers in artistic arrangements.

G. P. HUNSICKER HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY.

One of the outstanding events of the winter's social activities was the party given by Mrs. G. P. Hunsicker, Williamsport, on Tuesday evening, honoring the birthday anniversary of her husband.

Seventy guests were entertained, several from out of town. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with roses, carnations and snap dragons.

The Good-Will Quartet from Clarksburg, which is very popular and Charles Carter with Mrs. Carter several times, entertained the guests with a number of selections.

The quartet is composed of Pryon Timmons, Elzie Radcliff, Coyt Cleary and Charles Carter with Mrs. Carter as accompanist.

An elaborate lunch was served by Mrs. Hunsicker and her assistants.

Those from out of town to enjoy the occasion were Mr. Abbot and Mr. Reinhard, Columbus bankers; C. Webb Hunsicker and Mrs. Florence Duvendek, of Columbus; Geo. F. Grand-Girard, E. S. Neuding, Joseph Noecker, William T. Elm, Judge E. A. Brown, Geo. W. Adkins, Barton Walters, Geo. H. Adkins and Clark K. Hunsicker, Circleville; J. S. Mossbarger and Foreman J. Peck, Clarksburg.

PARTY CELEBRATES 7th BIRTHDAY

The importance of a seventh birthday anniversary of Jane Rose Pickens was celebrated Wednesday afternoon with a party of school children at her home on W. Ohio-st. Mrs. Grover Pickens, mother of the charming little hostess was assisted at the affair by Mrs. Curtis Burkhead.

Bright red, white and blue streamers, favors and napkins marked the nearness of George Washington's birthday. Place cards bore pictures of Washington and the birthday cake was made festive with birthday candles and small American flags.

Guests on this occasion were: Margaret Good, Donna Seitz, Sarah Jane Cook, Margaret Goom, Billy Bennett Heffner, Howard Orr, and Frank Davis Jr.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

—MODEL OF UNSELFISH SERVICE

We see before us today in retrospect George Washington the Young Engineer; Washington the Man; Washington the General; Washington the Statesman, who brought the colonies safely through the perils of Revolution and Re-birth.

In every act of the man, in every utterance of the statesman, he placed service to his country ahead of self.

The Ohio Utilities Co. holds that the greatest lesson Washington has bequeathed us is the wholehearted honest SERVICE. And that is the guiding thought of this institution—to serve the people to the utmost of our ability.
